

By Tyler McCurry

I created a new punctuation mark.

Think of a pause

Between great lines but fancier.

Longer, as if to suggest:

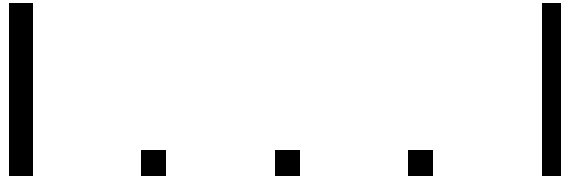

I . . . I a higher calling I . . . I

I . . . I a bigger picture I . . . I

I . . . I a grander design I . . . I

I . . . I a stranger tradition I . . . I

I . . . I
It will come in a small size

And a size that grabs your attention.

Scholars might stay up late:

I . . . I

Determining its purpose

I . . . I

Chugging warm Pepsi

I . . . I

Or berating their wives

I . . . I

Until it comes between them

Periods are a blip

Lost to us like rap lyrics.

And who can place a semicolon?

So most importantly I made sure

It's obvious in the end
